Mining

If mining profits are high, then we will invest in mining

We will use different mining pools like viaBTC . ant pool etc.

We will follow the electricity cost and profit adjustment strategy to switch between different currencies if possible...

About

Trading

We will switch between multiple cryptocurrencies to maximize profits

We will choose major platforms for trading like Bitfinex, Bitstamp, and Kraken etc.

If fluctuation rate is high then profit will be high otherwise we will focus on other types of trades to stabilize Coinsmat system...

Security

Transaction Password

You can enable and set this password one time only. If you think that there is leakage of your T password, then contact support. Your transaction password will be asked each time instead of code. This password will be for transactions but not for any other action.

Sign in Notification

If enabled, then you will receive an email every time when your account is logged in. These emails will contain details of login. You can also block your account temporary if you look something suspicious.

Image Privacy

If enabled, then your profile picture will remain hidden to all the team.

2FA Auth Code

During login, every time you will be asked by a code sent to your email.

If you forget your password, we recommend to reset it instead of trying again and again. It will lead to losing access to your account. Your account may be blocked temporarily to keep your account safe from attacks. Activities will be logged inside your account. We will take measures carefully to keep your account secure.

Rules & Regulations

The most important rules to discuss are:

- We will be able to change fluctuations rate or business days at any time to stabilize our system. But previous accounts will remain unchanged (in case of business days)
- We will inform you about any major change through Email or through Account Notifications.
- We will be able to change conditions to qualify for network sharing bonus at any time for any account or overall.
- If there is a new presentation available, it will be kept as true instead of the previous one.
- You will be able to contact support in case of an issue.
- To do any change we will value the user's feedback.
